

Patrick has been involved in amateur theatre since he played "Oliver" in 1975 at Chaddesley Corbett Village Hall. He has played many, varied character roles for C.A.T.S. and also with the Swan Theatre, Worcester. This is his first venture into the field of writer/director. The Society wishes him and the cast great success with his play. We hope you enjoy your evening with C.A.T.S. and Patrick's first "WORLD PREMIERE"!

C.A.T.S. President
Peggy Cox

The Story

It's 1934 and the remote Cornish inn, "The Brass Monkey" has hit hard times – again! Only this time it looks like it's on its last legs and more importantly, on its last landlord but not if the pub's most loyal (and probably only) regular customer has his way. A London newspaper has received information that a strange creature has been sighted in the area, leading to a surprising revival in business, bringing a host of new visitors, each with their own personal reason for making the long journey to "The Brass Monkey!" Will the beast make itself known or will the enticing rumour remain.... just a rumour?
