

Review of Chaddesley's 2007 Pantomime .. "Mother Goose"

"This first production by 'young' Matthew Tunnicliffe was totally hilarious. I have never laughed so long and so often at any show.

Rupert Boden's 'Mother Goose' (whose every entrance produced gales of laughter) led an excellent cast. A better-than-average script gave a new yet traditional feel to the show.

The 'School-room scene' was especially outrageous with a mixture of gags and visuals bringing the house down.

Costumes, lighting and accompaniment were first-rate.

This small village society - with a big heart - and loads of talent - can be well-proud of this production.

A marvellous, joyous Night-Out."
